Notable features:

Formstone of a particularly heavy variety on all but two units. Scheduled for demolition. These would be important to the street only if the ones opposite were to be saved.

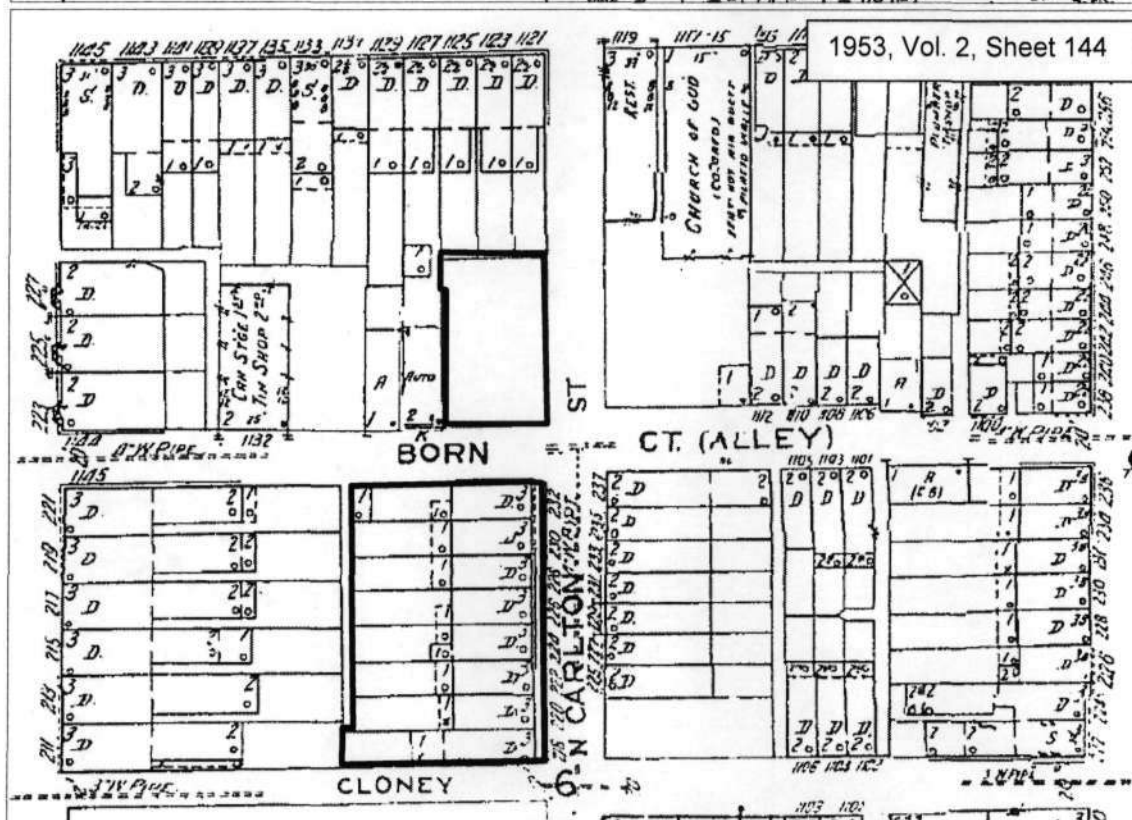

Environmental context:

Lots at 234-242 have been cleared; there are no vacant houses in this group. Small, quiet street which could be pleasant for very small families were it not for the need of a recreation space. This group is street-environment-wise less important than either the Saratoga, Lexington or Arlington Avenue groups.
